Did You Know?

Built in the 1820s and 1830s, the Ohio & Erie Canal was carved from the wilderness to provide an invaluable link — from Lake Erie to the Ohio River — in the nation's transportation system, completing an inland water route between the East Coast and Gulf of Mexico.

By connecting the Ohio frontier to New York and New Orleans, the Ohio & Erie Canal helped people and products flow across America, fueling westward expansion, a national market economy and burgeoning regional industrial might.

Today, the Ohio & Erie Canalway is a National Heritage Area, designated by Congress, to preserve and celebrate the first 110 miles of this canal that helped Ohio and our country grow.

Cookin' on the Canal

In 1908, Mrs. Gundling related her memories of being the cook on a dredge boat, where she earned $50 a month, more than her dredge-operating husband. "I baked bread, pie, and cake every day on that old coal stove. I had to cook breakfast and supper twice each day. . . But I only had to cook dinner once a day. There was midnight lunch to set out for the men, too, before I went to bed." Though the work was hard, she also enjoyed square dances at neighboring farms and theater shows in Akron. "We had our good times, too."

Watch for Autumn Fairies

Lovers of fairies are spoiled for choice come the Fall - autumn fairies come in glorious shades of autumnal red and gold, bedecked in nature's splendor.

From the elementals and nature spirits, to mischievous pixies and regal elves, fairies come in all shapes and sizes. They are closely connected to the natural world, and love beauty, so autumn is a special time for fairies. Leaves are turning gold and falling to the ground, and the earth is preparing for winter. Look closely among the fallen leaves and you might spot an autumn fairy or two!

Come said the wind to the leaves one day. Come o're the meadows and we will play. Put on your dresses scarlet and gold, For summer is gone and the days grow cold.
